Dr. Harris Reports on AMA Talk

"The national voluntary health agencies offer a wealth of opportunities for dedicated citizens to freely associate to promote good health in their community, state and country," Dr. A. Roy Tyer, Jr., spokesman for the American Medical Association told March of Dimes leaders in Dallas.

Dr. Lowell Harris, Chairman of the Medical Advisory Committee, for the Hemphstead County Chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, reported on Dr. Tyer's speech to-day returning from the two day conference of physicians and other volunteers associated with the voluntary health agency in Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. Mrs. Harris, Dorthia Camp, Women's Activities Chairman and Lura Impson, Chapter Chairman, attended also.

He quoted Dr. Tyer as saying: "The voluntary health movement unites the health professions with lay volunteers in attacking health problems. It develops a mutual respect and understanding between the medical profession and dedicated laymen by blending the talents of both to achieve an effective program."

Pointing out that vaccines developed solely through March of Dimes funds have eliminated polio as a public menace in this country, Dr. Harris said there is every reason to anticipate similar success in the health organization's fight against crippling birth defects and arthritis.

"As many as 12 million Americans have some form of arthritis or rheumatic disease and 250,000 babies are born in the United States each year with a serious birth defect," he said. The March of Dimes is the only voluntary agency fighting both these afflictions, and it needs the complete support of the public if these health threats are to be eliminated.

The meeting in Dallas was devoted to planning most effective means of carrying out this fight through research, patient care, public and professional education, he explained.

Seven Persons Perish in Fire at Forrest City

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—A Negro woman and six children died in a fire which destroyed their frame home during a thunderstorm Tuesday night.

A 14-year-old Negro girl was credited with saving four other children despite flames that inflicted deep burns on her.

"It sounded like some kind of explosion," Evelyn Reeves, 14, told her sister, Mrs. Wilma Henson today from her hospital bed. "Elizabeth was trying to get the kids out on the porch but she never got out the door."

Mrs. Elizabeth McGowan, 28, died in the fire. So did her children, Shirley Ann, 10, Debra Ann, 6, and Suberlynn, 3. The other victims were Anthony Reeves, 8, Debra Kay Reeves, 6, and Cassandra Gatling, 4, children of Mrs. Emogene Gatling, 27.

Mrs. Gatling and Mrs. McGowan lived together in the house with their 10 children. Evelyn Reeves, Mrs. Gatling's niece, was staying in the house. Mrs. Gatling was not home at the time of the fire.

Fire Chief Noel Tatum said lightning apparently struck an old television antenna on top of the house, starting the fire.

The Reeves girl saved Wilma Gatling, 5, Hanna Gatling, 1, Cecilia Gatling, 2, and Dianna McGowan, 8, before having to flee from the flaming house.

All seven bodies were found in one room of the three-room house. Wilma Gatling suffered slight burns but the other three children who were saved were not hurt.

Mrs. Henson said Mrs. McGowan and Mrs. Gatling both were separated from their husbands.

The house was located in a Negro section of this East Arkansas city.

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Seven persons—including six children—perished in a house fire here Tuesday night.

The fire broke out about 10 p.m. Tuesday during a thunderstorm, he said, but cause of the fire was not known.

Neighbors told Trusty that two Negro women and their downtown Forrest Cimor ar of which was eight blocks from downtown Forrest City.

The police chief said all the victims were Negroes.

Snowstorm Sweeping the Rockies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fast-moving snow storm from the southern Rockies swept across Midwest areas today and thunderstorms and rain hit sections from Texas eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

The storm that left nearly a foot of snow in parts of the Southwest spread across areas in Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin and headed into central and eastern sections of Upper Michigan.

Warnings of heavy snow were issued by the Weather Bureau for central areas.

Thunderstorms hit areas in east Texas and Oklahoma and spread eastward across parts of Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama and Mississippi. Hail was reported in some parts of the storm belt.

Freezing rain pelted some parts of the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region.

Colder air moved into the upper Great Lakes region but temperatures generally were in the 20s and higher. It was cold and clear in most of the snow-covered areas in the Southwest. Denver reported a reading of six above.

Ask Sentences Be Set Aside

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Memphis lawyers Bernard M. Rosen and James O. Garner asked the Arkansas Supreme Court Tuesday to set aside or cut down fines and jail sentences assessed against them in Pulaski Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge Guy Amsler held the attorneys in contempt of court Jan. 3 for charging that a jury was stacked against them Dec. 19 in a Pulaski Circuit Court damage case.

Amsler sentenced Rosen to 10 days in jail and Garner to five days and fined each $250.

Garner and Rosen got out of jail the next day on an order from Arkansas Supreme Court Justice George Rose Smith.

Smith's action postponed the judgment until the Supreme Court can review the matter.

The lawyers filed briefs in the case Tuesday.

Heavy Rain Dumped on Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy thunderstorms dumped up to two inches of rain on Arkansas Tuesday night and today and spawned at least one deadly tornado in the state.

The tornado killed one person and injured at least six others at Brush Creek northwest of Magnolia. Lightning was blamed for a fire that killed seven at Forrest City and a bank fire at North Little Rock.

The severe weather was caused by unstable air streaming northward from the Gulf of Mexico.

Central and Eastern Arkansas were under a tornado alert until noon today.

The regular weather forecast called for colder tonight and Thursday fair and cold with high temperatures 40 to 50.

Rainfall of more than two inches was reported in part of eastern Arkansas. Keiser measured 2.88 inches. The thunderstorms were expected to consolidate and move out of the state late today.

Virtually the whole state got a drenching rain.

Aggies Come Through With SWC Crown

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They still had the center jump after each basket in college basketball when Texas A&M last won the undisputed championship of the Southwest Conference.

The Aggies sewed up the SWC title for the first time in 41 years with a 70-66 double overtime victory over Texas Christian Tuesday night and earned an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament for the national collegiate championship.

It was a fitting climax to Shelby Metcalf's first year as Aggie head coach and he hopes for an easier time against Texas Western next Monday at Dallas in the NCAA competition.

The Aggies' victory overshadowed little Rider College's upset 66-63 triumph over the unpredictable NYU Violets and San Francisco's 60-47 defeat of Santa Clara for the Dons' 16th straight success.

In games involving teams in The Associated Press Top Ten Villanova, No. 7, walloped Seton Hall 101-73 and Chicago Loyola, No. 9 trampled Ohio University 103-87.

Texas Tech beat Rice 77-70 to take second place in the SWC while Providence beat Utah State 85-75. Georgia defeated Florida State 85-70 and Missouri whipped Iowa State 74-60 in other games.

Six free throws in the second overtime gave the Texas Aggies their victory over TCU at Fort Worth. The regulation game ended 62-62 and neither team scored in the first extra period.

The NCAA tournament picture now is as follows:

Eastern regionals at Philadelphia Monday: Temple vs. Connecticut or Rhode Island, Villanova vs. Providence, Virginia Military vs. Princeton, Penn or Yale. Duke drew first round bye.

Midwest regional at Evanston, Ill. Tuesday: Louisville vs. Ohio Univ or Miami of Ohio, Chicago Loyola vs. Murray, Ky, Kentucky and Michigan or Ohio State drew first round byes.

Davidson's request to compete in the NIT at New York, starting March 12, was turned down by the Southern Conference, leaving four berths open in the 12-team field. Already entered are DePaul, Pitt, NYU, Duquesne, St. Bonaventure, Miami, Fla. Army and St. Joseph's, Pa.

Canadian Hopeful in Florida Derby

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Northern Dancer, Canada's hope for the Kentucky Derby, rested in his stall today awaiting the 100,000 Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park April 4.

"We will run him next in the Florida Derby and after that take him to Kentucky," said Horatio Luro, who trains Northern Dancer for Canadian industrialist E. P. Taylor.

Northern Dancer won the $138,200 Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Tuesday, beating Mr. Brick by two lengths and such other promising 3-year-olds as Quadrangle, Journalist, Roman Brother, Dandy K., Ishkoodah, Alphabet, Roman Column, Buppers and Big Brigade. All carried 122 pounds.

Northern Dancer, even-money choice with the crowd of 32,944, ran the 1 1/4 miles 1:47 4-5, close to the Flamingo and track record of 1:47 set by Bold Ruler in 1957.

Roman Brother, Florida's hope for a third Kentucky Derby—Needles won in 1956 and Carry Back in 1961—was second choice with the Flamingo crowd but finished in a dead heat with Dandy K. for fifth.

"No trouble at all," said Bob Ussery, on Roman Brother. "The other horses just ran faster than we did."

Willie Shoemaker, who flew in from California to ride Northern Dancer, said his horse tired a little in the last 16th of a mile but wasn't quite as seasoned as some of the others.

Ashdown Is Knocked Out of Tourney

By TED MEIER

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Mulberry surprised Ashdown 60-31 in the Class A state basketball tournament here Tuesday night.

Ashdown was champion of District 7A and Mulberry was runner-up in 4A.

In other games, Brinkley beat Monticello 53-46 and Mountain Home downed Drew Central 69-60.

After the early minutes, Mulberry moved into a big lead and Ashdown never got back into the game.

Roger Benham led Mulberry with 18 points and John Wilcox got 17. Dan Daniels hit 14 for Ashdown.

A strong second quarter pushed Brinkley to a 33-24 half-time lead, with Dan Taylor hitting seven of nine field goal attempts in the first half. He finished with 20 points. David Anderson scored 17 for Monticello.

Mountain Home grabbed a quick lead, but its mistakes let Drew Central pulled within six points three times in the second half.

Mike Huett pumped in 21 points, James Bryant got 15 points and Bruce Wilber grabbed 19 rebounds for the winner. Lamar Thurman paced Drew Central with 19 points.

Today's games: Alma plays Judsonia, Mania plays Sheridan and Waldo meets Charleston.

All-American Cage Players Are Listed

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Bradds of Ohio State, Cotton Nash of Kentucky, Walt Hazzard of UCLA, Bradley Fore of Dayton and Dave Stallworth of Wichita were named today as the 1964 All-American college basketball team by The Associated Press.

Despite an abundance of good players that made picking difficult in this Olympic year, these five from the Big Ten, Southeastern Conference, Big Six, Ivy League and Missouri Valley easily led in the voting by 371 sports writers and broadcasters.

On the basis of five points for a first-team vote and two points for a second-team vote, Bradds collected a total of 1,199 points. He was named on the first team by 215 voters. Nash was runner-up with 207 firsts and 1,159 total points. Then came Hazzard with 195 firsts and 1,087. All are seniors.

Bradley and Stallworth, both juniors, polled 783 and 765, respectively, and each got 123 firsts.

Jeff Mullins of Duke, Cazzie Russell of Michigan, Fred Hetzel of Davidson, Mel Counts of Oregon State and Ron Bonham of Cincinnati were named as the second team.

Howard Komives of Bowling Green, Paul Silas of Creighton, Bill Buntin of Michigan, Barry Kramer of NYU and Jim Barnes of Texas Western formed the third team.

Bonham and Kramer made the 1963 All-American as juniors, along with Bradds, but failed to repeat. The Ohio State star similarly got off to a poor season, but went on a scoring spurge that put him back in the running and also sparked the Buckeyes into contention for the Big Ten crown.

Nash, after an off-season as a junior, reverted to the fine form he showed as a sophomore and led Kentucky to the Southeastern Conference title. Hazzard's speed and floor generalship helped put unbeaten UCLA at the top of The Associated Press rankings as well as the Big Six conference.

Bradley shattered virtually all of the Ivy League scoring records at Princeton, while Stallworth paced Wichita's drive for the Missouri Valley crown.

A Right-Handed Sandy Kofax

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Jim Maloney is a young Irishman from Fresno, Calif. with a refreshing sense of humor and a fast ball that makes people call him a "right-handed Sandy Koufax."

Fortunately, Maloney already has learned a basic truth of sports—never take yourself too seriously. That can come in handy for a 23-year-old pitcher, who had a 23-7 record for Cincinnati last year, set a club strikeout high of 265 and tied the major league record by striking out eight in a row one night at Milwaukee.

"Last year I told the boys 15 games was my goal," Maloney said at Al Lopez Field. "I figured if I won 15 I would have a tremendous year. Well, I had 15 with two months to go so the boys began writing about 25. I had trouble keeping my mind on a little thing like winning No. 16."

So what is he shooting at this time?

"I'm going for '6," he said today.

Star Rookie Has Serious Back Injury

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Pete Ward, the Chicago White Sox third baseman who just missed being American League Rookie of 1963, is in traction in Sarasota Memorial Hospital because of a back injury.

The 24-year-old, who lost out to teammate pitcher Gary Peters in the run for rookie honors, was rushed to the hospital Tuesday when something went wrong in his back as he straightened out to make a throw.

Although X rays indicate the injury was not of a serious nature, Ward was placed in traction in order to stretch the affected muscle.

Ward led the White Sox in practically every department in offense last year. He led in batting with .295, total bases with 289, runs batted in with 84, doubles with 34, and hits with 177. His 22 home runs tied him with Dave Nicholson in that department.

Sox officials were concerned since Ward sat out the final week of the 1963 season with a back injury. Ward also reported to camp at 110 pounds, far over his listed weight of 184. The listing, however, is incorrect since he was playing at 195 pounds throughout the 1963 season.

Ward was in obvious pain on the training table in the clubhouse before being taken to the hospital on the recommendation of Dr. Anthony Gazauskas, the team physician.

Ward will be out of action for at least several days and possibly a week or so. Rookie Don Buford took over at third base. Buford, originally a third baseman, is being converted into a second baseman to replace Nellie Fox, who was traded to Houston during the winter.

Star Zebra Player Signs With Porks

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)

Frank Broyles, head football coach at the University of Arkansas, landed the state's most sought-after high school athlete Tuesday when he signed Pine Bluff's Gordon Norwood to an athletic scholarship.

Broyles cautioned newsmen to call the scholarship "athletic" and not just "football," indicating Norwood would play football, basketball and possibly golf.

Norwood, at quarterback, led Pine Bluff to the state Class AAA championship the past two seasons. He was a standout passer and runner.

Twice named all-state and all-Southern, Norwood was named high school All-America last season.

He also started for the basketball Zebras for two years.

The 6-foot-2, 185-pound Norwood has played football since grade school, and was a standout quarterback for Pine Bluff as a sophomore.

The player that caught most of Norwood's passes, end Jim Barnes, has not said what college he will attend. Pine Bluff halfback David Hunt has signed with Arkansas, but tackle Walter Weaver, the fourth Pine Bluff senior sought by several colleges, has not committed himself.

At the start of the Civil War, in 1860, there were 39,000 farms in Arkansas, averaging 245 acres each.

Fighter of Month Is Cassius Clay

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay, the Louisville bard who threw enough words to fill 10 magazines and enough blows to wrest the heavyweight title from Sonny Liston, was named the Fighter of the Month for February by Ring magazine Wednesday.

Liston, a seventh-round technical knockout victim Feb. 25, was dropped to the leading challenger's spot by Ring in releasing its monthly ratings. In other heavyweight division changes, Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz., and Eddie Machen of Los Angeles each moved up one place, to fourth and fifth respectively, and Britain's Henry Cooper, winner over countryman Brian London, replaced his victim in 10th place.

Pixie Face, Approaches Like Pirate

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — He has the face of a pixie and the approach of a pirate. And he just happens to be the most proficient pro the National Basketball Association has ever known.

"He's something like a good insurance policy," Cincinnati Coach Jack McMahon said today about backcourt star Oscar Robertson.

"It's like this," McMahon explained. "In this game, mistakes are bound to happen. But almost every time we make a mistake, Oscar comes up with the ball."

"And when he's got the ball, how much trouble can you be in?"

Robertson contributed 33 points, a dozen assists and was the team's second best rebounder Tuesday night when the Royals fought off New York 117-108 in Madison Square Garden, staying within 2 1/2 games of perennial champion and current front-runner Boston.

Show About Film Stars Broadened

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hollywood and the Stars" started out in September dedicated to the production of laughs and nostalgia by showing bits from old silent movies. It has steadily broadened its horizons.

Monday night it showed what really went on during the well-publicized days in Mexico when Ava, Dickie and Liz—in alphabetical order, —were concerned with the making of a movie, "Night of the Iguana."

Those expecting a lurid account were doomed to disappointment. Some one on the scene compared the sober goings-on to a Boy Scout picnic. This proved to be wild exaggeration.

The only fireworks shown were real ones—Roman candles shot off at a rather perfunctory party after the film was finished.

We did see Miss Gardner water skiing and, of course, acting. Miss Taylor was glimpsed reading a newspaper and standing around at the party. Burton was shown having his makeup applied, acting and standing around with Miss Taylor, looking bored.

By that time so was I. "Hollywood and the Stars" is a lot more entertaining when it shows Rudolph Valentino, Rod La Roque, Billie Dove and Mack Sennett bathing beauties.

"Missing Links," the NBC panel show, which will be departing soon to make room for Merv Griffin's new "Jeopardy," will not be a candidate for television's Boot Hill. ABC has picked up the show and is expected to put it into its morning game show lineup.

Ed McMahon, "Missing Links" host, probably will not cross the channel with the program. He has conflicting commitments with NBC's "Tonight Show" and Johnny Carson.

Sebastian Cabot, late of "Checkmate" and "Stump the Stars," will be host-narrator of CBS' "Suspense" series, which will replace "Tell It to the Camera" on March 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ray went to see Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buckner and Jim in Fort Worth over the weekend. Mrs. J. W. Ray accompanied them to Sulphur Springs to visit the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Allen.

Miss Helen Troy Hammons

Mrs. Foy Hayden Hammons announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Helen Troy, to Lloyd Ree Bass, son of the late D. L. and Lloyd Alma Byars Bass of Bearden. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Foy Hayden Hammons, well-known Hope coach.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, March 21 at 4 p.m. in the First Methodist Church with a reception to follow in the Heritage House.

No cards will be sent, and all friends and relatives of the couple are invited to the wedding and the reception.

President of Panama Real Wealthy

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP) — In a second-floor suite of Panama's presidential palace sits Roberto F. Chiari, 59, wealthy sugar baron, cattleman and 32nd man to hold the office of president in the 60 years this little country has been a republic.

Chiari is the storm's eye around whom Panama's differences with the United States have been swirling.

Like almost all responsible Panamanians, he has been engulfed in an unprecedented wave of nationalist wrath over the killing of 25 Panamanians in the Jan. 9-11 violence near the Canal Zone border.

Out of this episode has been fashioned an unyielding official demand that the United States negotiate a new canal treaty if Panama is to restore diplomatic relations.

Almost all Panamanians seem convinced the 1903 treaty fashioned by President Theodore Roosevelt deprives this country of rights in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone and is also responsible for other injustices.

Some of Chiari's critics doubt that by himself he would have reached the sudden decision to break off diplomatic relations with the United States at the height of the disturbances.

Others hold that Chiari's and the government's positions were so grave he had to do something dramatic to stem a tide of emotion which might have toppled the government.

Those close to the president like to point to his family's background and tradition of "standing up to the Yankees" as a clue to a possible factor in his decisions. His father Rodolfo, the sixth Panamanian president, threatened to resign in 1928 if American troops were sent in—under terms of a constitutional amendment later abrogated—to supervise presidential elections which were threatened with violence.

The 5-foot-10, 145-pound president puts in a 12-hour day in the three-story, unpretentious looking palace. He likes semi-classical music and is an avid sports fan. In the big leagues he likes the San Francisco Giants. Asked about the Yankees, he smiled and replied "I am a nationalist."

Chiari had a good training for the presidency. He once was an aide de camp to his father.

Chiari cannot succeed himself in the presidency. He has remained aloof publicly from the political campaign leading to elections in May.

boothel. No injuries were reported.

The twister hit an American Legion building in Senath that temporarily was being used as a school—but it was before school hours. Nearby farm homes and a light plane at the boothel flying service were damaged. A report received at nearby Memphis, said seven or eight houses were blown over at Senath.

Access to the city from north and south on Missouri 25 was blocked by debris. Telephone communications were cut off.

Witnesses said the funnel-shaped cloud was seen about 8 a.m., moving from the west to east. Two hundred yards of telephone line wire ripped away when it touched the ground.

The twister passed Kennett, eight miles northeast of Senath in Dunklin County. However, high winds and 2½ inches of rain battered Kennett.

UNDERSTAND MOTHER-IN-LAW AND YOU'LL GET ALONG
By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Here's a letter from a young bride who has a problem with her mother-in-law. She writes: Dear Dr. Brothers: We were married recently and moved into our own apartment. I'm extremely happy that is, I was until my husband's mother became involved with our house-keeping plans, she keeps trying to get us to change our way of living so it's more like the way she keeps her own house. My husband often asks me to agree with her to keep family harmony, but I still feel my home is my own, and I should be the one who has exclusive say in its running. In your experience as a doctor of psychology, how should young wives my age approach a much older mother-in-law, to keep peace in the family, yet remind her it's her sons' wife's home? —Eva B.

Dear Mrs. B.: For generations, we have had anecdotes about wives distressed over their mothers-in-law. Usually, they show the wives as harassed, and the mother-in-law as difficult. The grain of truth in these anecdotes is borne out in our modern statistics that show three out of four marriages today have mother-in-law problems. Perhaps the greatest conflict comes between the wife versus the husband's mother.

Basically, and quite naturally, a mother feels a completely well meaning, if unconscious, possessiveness toward her son. At the same time, a wife's also normal reaction is possessiveness of the son as a male. One of the strongest feelings a woman has is possessiveness towards a husband.

This conflict may seem to come over meals, budgeting, or some pretty home-making detail deep under it are the opposing drives for possession of the son that neither may express or may be fully aware of. In this wife-versus-mother conflict, it's rarely the mother-in-law who complains of the conflict. Instead, her association with her son seems to her sufficiently secure. After all, she brought him up as a baby. Instead, the wife feels her new position is threatened. She is the writer of letters to me.

How can a new wife like you approach her problem? First, start out with a right and positive attitude. Don't be defensive, and don't expect your mother-in-law to be perfect.

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm single, 22, a secretary. The other girls who work with me don't seem to be nearly as pepped at the end of the office day. My doctor says I'm in good shape. Could it be mental? —CVN.

Dear CVN: Plan a date in the evening and you'll find this so-called 5 p.m. exhaustion just doesn't happen.

Special Session in Colorado
DENVER (AP)—Gov. John Love is calling the Colorado Legislature into special session sometime in April to reappoint the state's four congressional districts.
Love disclosed this Monday night at the end of a 55-day regular session during which a three-cent state tax was levied on cigarettes. Some deductions were removed from the state income tax to provide $5 million in new revenue.

One Buried in Earth Slide
TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Rescue workers dug through the night to determine whether any other persons were buried in an earth slide which killed one man.
The body of Tillman Webb, 33, was recovered from beneath tons of earth at the Holt lock and dam site six miles northeast of here on the Warrior River.
Six persons were hurt when heavy rains caused a 200-foot section of a 40-foot high cofferdam to collapse Monday.

Interest Rate Pull to Get a Test
By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The power of the pull toward higher interest rates should be tested in the next few weeks.
On one end of the rope in this tug of war are the federal income tax cut's touted boost to the American economy and the trend in Europe toward higher interest rates. On the other end of the rope is reluctance of government planners to see higher rates cramp a business boom before it gets well started.
The U.S. Treasury has urged the money market not to speculate on a raise here in the discount rate, similar to that just ordered by the Bank of England. But some Wall Street credit and security dealers already talk of the prospects that the Federal Reserve Board will sooner or later raise the present 3½ per cent discount rate—the charge for borrowing by its member banks.
The Federal Reserve never telegraphs its punches. It won't say when, if ever, it will raise the rate to which most other short-term interest charges are tied. So the dealers just guess. And the yields on some short-term debts already have risen a little in anticipation.
The Federal Reserve has other weapons in controlling the amount of credit and influencing the size of interest charges. One is to increase or lower the amount of reserves the member banks must keep with it. This gives them either less or more funds they can lend, regulating the supply of credit in terms of current demand.
Another is to enter the government securities market and buy or sell. This, too, either builds up or decreases the amount of bank deposits which can be used for extending credit. The tighter the supply of lendable funds the higher interest rates are likely to go.
Some are betting that the Federal Reserve will do nothing for the time being. This theory is that the board will wait to see what effect the last week's twin actions—the tax cut and the British interest hike—may have on American money markets.
The tax cut's effects could be to set off a business expansion and a consumer buying spree that would, in time, inflate prices and boom demand for easy credit. Many think it will not work that way at all, but have only a gradual and healthy effect. In that case the increased demand for credit would lead naturally to slowing rising interest rates.
These are the present uncertainties that both Washington and Wall Street are striving to assess. The next few weeks should tell how the American economy and banking and security markets will react.

THE WEeping WIDOW MINE
By Nelson C. Nye

THE STORY: Charlie Medders was indebted to Tiberius K. Jones for a stake which turned out to be a "salted" hole in the Arizona hills instead of a gold mine. Now with Belita Storn claiming Medders had struck a rich vein, Jones is naturally interested.

III
Since she wore no stockings the calloused evidence of shackles was hardly to be denied. The sheriff winced as he looked at the leg she stuck out. It would go hard with Charlie if a jury saw that.
"You can't talk away those ridges on her legs." Satisfaction glimmered from every cranny of his overfed face. "Just what you'd expect of a scoundrel like Medders—keeping a poor innocent girl penned out there against her will." His jaws shook and joggled like a turkey gobbler's wattles. "Feller ought to be tarred and feathered!"
McFarron growled, clapping on his hat.
The banker was not distracted. Flatly beaming at the girl he pushed out the overstuffed chair beside his desk, not the visitor's straightback but the one he kept for show. "Miss Storn, you sit right down and be comfortable. You have certainly been through a terrible experience, but now all that's behind—you're not to worry about a thing. We're going to see you get all that's coming to you, believe me. Now . . . where'd you say this place is?"
She'd allowed herself to be ensconced in the overstuffed, spread the tatters of her skirt about those bare and sun-browned legs. "Why," she said, smiling back at him, "it's out in the desert."
Jones chewed on his lip, grinding down his impatience. "That desert takes in considerable ground."
Belita Storn inclined her head. He considered her a moment. "I am going to be blunt. Exactly what are you after?"
She didn't boggle over that. "I want him brought in."
"Ah!" Jones nodded with a crafty smile. "You wish your grievances redressed by the court." He looked pleased as Punch.
The girl's amber eyes surveyed him.
"I'd want only what the court feels is right, Mr. Jones." The conniving bussy! Butler,

Frank J. McRae, general manager of the firm's Little Rock operation, said Tuesday that production has begun on one line of the firm's new plant at Little Rock.
About 100 persons have been hired, and peak employment may reach 250, McRae said.
The company makes pipe of wound glass filaments embedded in a resin.
McRae also said Tuesday that Dow-Smith will operate a firm at Ionia, Mich., that makes glass fiber reinforced plastic bodies for automobiles.
The Michigan plant employs 1,200, he said.

Moonshine Sugar Proved Useful
COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Plans are being made to donate sugar confiscated during moonshine raids to "Operation Sugar Lump," an anti-polio drive beginning March 8.
The sheriff's office says bulk sugar found around illegal stills will be swapped to various restaurants for lumps of sugar used in administering Sabin oral vaccine.
Polio drive sponsors estimate the free sugar will lower the cost of administering the vaccine by about $2,000.

Crowd of 1,800 Sees Prescott Mfg. Plant Dedicated

This was the scene in Prescott at 3 p.m. Tuesday as Governor Orval Faubus began the dedicatory address celebrating the opening of Prescott Manufacturing Co.'s plant — a new garment industry for Prescott and Nevada County. The governor is speaking from a temporary platform erected at the south entrance of the factory by the Prescott Junior Chamber of Commerce. The wide-angle lens caught a large section of the south side of the building but could not record the big crowd of 1,800 jammed in behind the camera.

President Is Still Feeling His Way

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 100 days in office President Johnson is still feeling his way in foreign affairs, with Congress, with the press, and in his own reaction to criticism. He reached his 100th day Saturday but, while he searches his standing in the public opinion polls is very high.

Johnson, an old Congress hand with 24 years in House and Senate, has seemed most sure with the men in the Capitol, and most successful. He still faces big tests there.

He got off on the right foot by promising economy and offering a budget lower than President Kennedy's of last year. This pleased Congress, which rammed through a tax-cut bill for him, largest in history, and a foreign aid bill not too skimpy to live with.

A major test of Johnson's leadership in Congress will be in trying to get through intact the civil rights bill he asked. He also called for a program of medical care for the aged and a war on poverty.

He will be a miracle man if he can get approval of medical care and the war on poverty will be long drawn-out.

Foreign problems multiplied for Johnson faster than for Kennedy in the same length of time: Riots in Panama, trouble with Fidel Castro in Cuba, an ugly, deteriorating war in South Viet Nam.

Johnson has shown extraordinary sensitivity to criticism, although it got under other presidents' skins too. But Johnson reacted to it early in such an exaggerated way that this got him more criticism.

Several weeks ago he was so incensed at his critics—of whom Republicans were the severest—that he bracketed them with "our other enemies." This could be interpreted as meaning that criticizing him was disloyal.

After he got a fresh going-over for that, he shifted ground and last week was calling for patient understanding of his critics.

Ever since taking office Johnson seems to have been seeking a way to handle the press. He would talk with newsmen individually or call a sudden news conference with the few reporters who happened to be in the White House at the time.

But for 100 days he avoided the kind of live, televised news conference which Kennedy, with his ease and quickness, made a delight even if it wasn't always newsworthy.

For a month, until Saturday, Johnson did not meet with the press at all. The questions intensified: Why? On Saturday he finally had a live, televised meeting with a pack of reporters, a meeting announced a day ahead of time.

He did not say much. He talked mostly in generalities. And he made it clear this kind of conference was not going to be the rule. He said he would hold one occasionally but meanwhile would talk to reporters in other ways.

Time Bad But the Show Was Fascinating

NEW YORK (AP) — Only anglophiles and insomniacs would be likely to settle down by choice to watch, at 10 o'clock on Sunday night, a public affairs program with the title "Britain: The Changing Guard."

Because of that unpromising, heavy-handed title, one fears, many viewers missed a fascinating and amusing description of upper-class British life.

The theme of NBC's hour was that the age-old British upper class and its educational system are being challenged.

The empire once was ruled and governed entirely by a small, well-born minority educated in the right schools. Now to have a chance to take over.

The program, however, was primarily a peg for some great pictures of Britain's countryside and the great old houses—marvelous in color—and some delightful shots of young prep school students and Eton boys' school brothers, as writer.

Astronauts to Grand Canyon

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The nation's 14 newest astronauts leave today for a first hand study of one of nature's marvels, the Grand Canyon.

Two U.S. Geological Survey instructors will guide the astronauts through the mile-deep Arizona canyon, pointing out rocks and other features which the spacemen will need to recognize when they reach the moon.

One task of the astronauts will be to bring back 80 pounds of the moon's surface from lunar voyages.

in their tail coats and high hats. The vital importance of Eton, Oxford or Cambridge schooling was explained as well as the importance of the correct British accent.

ABC had some beautiful, dramatic photography in the third of its "Saga of Western Man" series Saturday night. This program told of events and circumstances that culminated in 1898 in the Spanish-American War and pushed young, muscular United States onto the world stage for the first time.

Location shots in Cuba recreating the battle of San Juan Hill among others, were imaginatively done, but the narration was a bit on the classroom lecture side.

"Destiny," ABC's new Friday night series, has turned out to be a hit in the ratings in spite of its late start. The marked resemblance to "Maverick" is not exactly coincidental. Last week's amusing episode carried the name of Marion Hargrove, father of the Maverick school students and Eton boys' school brothers, as writer.

U.S., French Relations Are Strained

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials have about given up trying to analyze the motives of French President Charles de Gaulle and resigned themselves to a long period of strain and increasing tension in relations between Washington and Paris.

The latest French maneuver in demanding Red Chinese admission to the U.N. World Health Organization is but one of a series which has already created a bad split in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and which may be followed by other moves as yet unforeseen here.

The Washington policy for dealing with this situation seems to be essentially a policy of containment aimed at trying to prevent the split in the alliance from becoming worse.

It is also aimed at trying to blot the thrust of De Gaulle's diplomacy insofar as it may affect the policies and attitudes of other countries in issues like the recognition of the Communist regime in China.

After news was received at the White House and State Department Tuesday that France was supporting a Red Chinese seat in the World Health Organization, the State Department declared that the U.S. delegation had "actively and successfully opposed the challenge of the Republic of China's (Nationalist China's) credentials."

It added: "We will continue to do this in the U.N. body."

Modern Cowboys Use Sling Shot

WHEATLAND Wyo. (AP) — The weapon of modern day cowboys, says Bob Lukens, has become the slingshot.

He is selling them by the hundreds to stockmen and cowboys who find them useful in flushing cattle and horses from brush. Lukens said cowboys also use them in shooting tranquilizing darts into livestock or subduing rattlesnakes.

Ordered to Make No Speeches

ATLANTA (AP) — The 29 candidates in the Catoosa County Democratic primary election March 10 have been ordered by the county Democratic committee to make no speeches.

The order left most of the residents in the northwest Georgia county speechless.

County Chairman Cortez Lamb said 17 of the candidates voted in a secret ballot to eliminate speeches. He said the county committee would be asked to reconsider the order.

Court to Decide on Cude Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court will consider March 16, without oral arguments, the case involving custody of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cude of Mena.

Both sides in the case have filed final briefs.

The Cudes have been ordered to give custody of their children to the state Welfare Department because they refuse to have them vaccinated against smallpox. They contend it is against their religion to do so.

The state contends the children cannot attend school without the vaccinations and that their religion provides no basis for denying them an education.

The Supreme Court ordered last December that the children remain with their parents until the case was fully reviewed.

Telephone Calls Proved Costly

DALLAS (AP) — Two telephone calls totaling $3.04 cost James Taylor Kelley Jr. of Fort Worth $1,000.

County Criminal Court Judge Jim Gubrie fined Kelley, 33, for charging long distance calls of 59 cents and $2.45 to a Dallas businessman's telephone number without permission.

It was the first conviction under a 1961 Texas law providing a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine or one year in jail or both.

challenge on this issue, which points toward a fight in the U.N. General Assembly over Red China next fall, was unqualified.

It is understood that the State Department is advising its embassies all over the world to make the U.S. policy on Red China both as to recognition and as to U.N. membership completely clear in the capitals where they serve.
